

Building and Design Resources

Building and Design Resources

64 Inman Street
Cambridge, Massachusetts 02139
United States

Phone: (617) 354-4266

Building and Design Resources provides information services for architects and interior designers, with offices in Cambridge, Massachusetts. BDR staff are available to work in a client's library on a weekly or bi-weekly basis, providing library maintenance, keeping materials current, establishing a check-out system for references and design books, managing magazine subscriptions, ordering material samples, managing the schedule of continuing education programs, and consulting with staff on project related material needs, as well as doing research on sustainable material options. Its site includes representative and consultant directories, industry associations, and a classified section.

