Founded in 2011, Highline Construction specializes in residential and light commercial projects in Bellingham and the surrounding areas. Highline Construction typically builds one or two architecturally designed custom homes a year, with the bulk of its work focused on remodels. Everything from custom kitchens through full house remodels, as well as the occasional commercial tenant improvement. The company's in-house interior design showroom offers a curated, exclusive collection of interior design materials, including cabinets, floors, tile, and more. Featuring products from great companies with excellent warranties, including in-stock options that ensure the elements that go into your home are the materials you fall in love with.
