Zavarella Woodworking, Inc. is a millwork contractor, with more than twenty-five years of experience, based in Newington, Connecticut. In operation since 1985, the New England contractor offers custom millwork and commercial installation services, and is an authorized reseller for DuPont Corian countertops and materials, as well as Merillat cabinets, primarily for business clients, hospitals, medical facilities, and schools, although it does do some residential work. The company can also design and create custom wood interior products and has its division selling hardwood lumber, moldings, and various panel products. All services are described in detail on the company's website, along with certifications, and photos of current and completed projects.
